Reasons for Allowance

1. Claims 1-3,6, 8-14,17, 19-21 will be allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance.

The prior art references most closely resembling the applicants claimed invention are Greer et al (U.S. 6,247,048), Bennett (U.S. 6,122,670) and Solymar (U.S. 6,244,758).

First, Greer disclosed a method of translation, that is taking data represented in one character set and translating (transcoding) the data so that it is represented by another character set. However Greer failed to disclose, "wherein said determining comprises indexing a table with said one transport mechanism recognized in step b) to determine at least one parameter in the communication protocol, and wherein said table comprises parameters that are designed to improve communication based on the transport mechanism wherein said communication protocol determined at step c) selects a particular user authentication protocol performed to establish data communication between said personal digital assistant and said host computer system and said communication protocol determined at step c) selects a particular data encryption protocol performed to establish data communication between said personal digital assistant and host computer system; and d) said host computer system communicating information to said personal digital assistant based on said communication protocol determined at step c)". These limitations are incorporated into all of the independent claims (claims 1, 9, 19).

Second Bennett disclosed, " That protocol logic subsystem 45 verifies that the IP header checksum result it correct, and verifies that the TCP segment checksum is correct, before sending the datagram to IP process 96, via bus 43, protocol logic 45, bus 49, i900 bridge 407. bus 47, bus interface 37, and PCI bus 30. If either the IP header checksum or the TCP segment checksum result are incorrect, protocol logic subsystem 45 discards the datagram". However Bennett failed to disclose, "wherein said determining comprises indexing a table with said one transport mechanism recognized in step b) to determine at least one parameter in the communication protocol, and wherein said table comprises parameters that are designed to improve communication based on the transport mechanism wherein said communication protocol determined at step c) selects a particular user authentication protocol performed to establish data communication between said personal digital assistant and said host computer system and said communication protocol determined at step c) selects a particular data encryption protocol performed to establish data communication between said personal digital assistant and host computer system; and d) said host computer system communicating information to said personal digital assistant based on said communication protocol determined at step c)". These limitations are incorporated into all of the independent claims (claims 1,9,19).

Third Solymar disclosed, "A system for retrieving lost or stolen electronic devices". However Solymar did not disclose, "wherein said determining comprises indexing a table with said one transport mechanism recognized in step b) to determine at least one parameter in the communication protocol, and wherein said table comprises parameters that are designed to improve communication based on the transport mechanism wherein said communication protocol determined at step c) selects a particular user authentication protocol performed to establish data communication between said personal digital assistant and said host computer system and said communication protocol determined at step c) selects a particular data encryption protocol performed to establish data communication between said personal digital assistant and host computer system; and d) said host computer system communicating information to said personal digital assistant based on said communication protocol determined at step c)". These limitation are incorporated into all of the independent claims (Claims, 1, 9, 19).

In summary, the Examiner submits that neither Greer, nor Bennett and Solymar taught all the limitations of independent claims in combination with other elements. Specifically prior art does not teach , "wherein said determining comprises indexing a table with said one transport mechanism recognized in step b) to determine at least one parameter in the communication protocol, and wherein said table comprises parameters that are designed to improve communication based on the transport mechanism wherein said communication protocol determined at step c) selects a particular user authentication protocol performed to establish data communication between said portable wireless computer system and said host computer system and said communication protocol determined at step c) selects a particular data encryption protocol performed to establish data communication between said portable wireless computer system and host computer system"; therefore, claims 1-3,6-14,17-21 have been deemed allowable over the prior art.
